Outdoor Florida

by Herb Mosher

BELLE GLADE — April is Florida's loveliest month — the finest and most delightful time of the entire year!

At the same time, April "up North" is one of the most disagreeable months on the calendar — which makes it difficult to understand why so many "Yankees" leave Florida for the unpleasant North in April. (Laughing with pneumonia isn't quite the same as betting on the dogs and horses, either.)

April, brings to Florida the best of weather which reminds one of perpetual spring-time. It is neither too hot nor too cold, in April—it's just delightful, by day and by night, at this most pleasant time of all.

Take the out-of-doors in April. Fishing is really good. In fresh water black bass and speckled perch are full of zip and go, striking freely, while this grand sport is being carried on amid ideal surroundings. Orange blossom is still opening, out in the groves, giving the countryside a delightful perfume.

Mr. Emmet Roberts, who is a patient at the Alachua County Hospital, Gainesville, is reported doing well. She plans after leaving the hospital to recuperate at the home of her mother, Mrs. Howard Tree, Gainesville.

Miss Sara Creech returned to her home Tuesday from the Good Samaritan Hospital, West Palm Beach, where she has been a patient.

Gene Hollingsworth, small son of Mrs. and Mrs. Jack Hollingsworth returned home Saturday from St. Mary's Hospital, West Palm Beach, where he underwent surgery. Gene received many get well cards from friends, after opening home, which were forwarded from the hospital.

Patients at the Belle Glade Memorial Hospital are: Jack Judd, medical treatment; Edward Mickusky, child, who underwent surgery.

Those returning home from hospital last week were: Marsha and Rodney Pennington, medical treatment; Barbara Gruber, medical treatment; and J. R. Davidson, medical treatment.

budget problems. While quantity purchases make the cost of meals lower than what the housewife would have to pay, each one is figured right down to the penny for every man.

It costs $1.02 to give a hungry Marine three squares a day. A typical dinner menu includes: soup and crackers, grilled steak with mushrooms and onions, French fried potatoes, string beans, assorted salads, hot rolls, butter, ice cream, and coffee or iced drink.

Of course, that's the most expensive meal. It comes to fifty-two cents a man.

The weary home-maker can take heart from the thought of Lieutenant Harvey and be happy that it's just a family for which the bacon must be brought home. He'll need two-and-a-half tons of it this month.

Churches of Christ, Scientist

Recognition of the actuality and reality of the things of God insures joy and satisfaction. This is the keynote of services in all churches of Christ, Scientists, next Sunday when the subject is "REALITY."

The Golden Text is from Isaiah (64:4): "Since the beginning of the world men have not heard, nor perceived by the eye, neither hath the eye seen, O God, beside thee, what he hath prepared for him that waiteth for him."

Jesus' promise, "Blessed are they which do hunger and thirst after righteousness: for they shall be filled" (Matthew 5:6) is one of the Bible citations.

Correlative selections from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include: "Material sense does not see the facts of existence; but spiritual sense lifts human consciousness into eternal truth" (p. 95).

PRESBYTERIAN WOMEN HAVE INSTALLATION

The Women of the Presbyterian Church enjoyed a pot luck supper recently with their husbands as guests. After the supper the following officers for the year were installed by Rev. Robert Ford: Mrs. Richard Murray, president; Mrs. W. K. Whitlock, vice president; Mrs. Ed Browning, chairman of World Missions; Mrs. Robert Lanier, chairman of spiritual growth; Mrs. Tommy Parker, chairman of general assembly; and Mrs. Clyde Clayton, chairman of church nursery.

The annual report of the Circle chairmen were: Mrs. Irving Zumpf, Mrs. Jean Beck, and Mrs. Robert Roadman.

The members of the group were given a report of a skit, with Mrs. Parker and Mrs. Lanier taking the leading parts.

Croft of Fort Lauderdale conducted the afternoon session. Several special musical numbers were presented throughout the day. A basket dinner was served at noon.

W. W. WATSON TO HOLD REVIVAL

Presiding services at the First Baptist Church of Chosen will be held Friday night, 7:30 p.m., continuous through Sunday. Beginning Monday evening a two week revival will be held with Elder W. W. Watson from Auburndale, Fla. as preacher.

GRACE: Virtue, wisdom, goodness, and real worth, like the loadstone, never lose their power.

There is no such way to attain to greater measure of grace as for a man to live up to the little grace he has.

—James G. Brooks.

As heat is opposed to cold, and light to darkness, so grace is opposed to sin.

—Thomas Brooks.

When a hungry heart petitions the divine Father-Mother God for bread, it is not given a stone—but more grace, obedience, and love.—Mary Baker Eddy.

Grace grows after government.—Thomas Deacon.

Grace is more beautiful than beauty.—R. W. Emerson.

But he willing to justify himself, will make James. And who is his neighbor?—(St. Luke X, 28).

The good Samaritan had compassion on the man beaten by thieves after he had passed him by and he said Jesus, was the neighbor; and He commanded, Go. How many times each day do we pass by on the other side of those about us who would be comforted by just a smile or a pleasant word from one like Him? How can we who profess to love the Saviour neglect to show compassion and mercy ourselves?

Tom Watson Plans Ambitiously For God's Work Abroad

What with publishing a bulletin, making radio talks, and planning a 100,000 watt station designed to reach "North and South Korea, Japan and China, Manchuria and parts of the USSR" Tom Watson is getting The Story over to a lot of folks.

In a letter to Thurmond Knight, received recently Tom says "I'm scheduled to go on a freighter on Feb. 22nd, arriving in Pusan on the 24th. I'll leave Kathryn and the children here for the time being, since the war still prevents them from giving permission to missionary families to enter."

"The reasons for going to Korea are twofold: (1) the fact that our mission group, TEAM, has decided to undertake missionary work over there and has asked me to go over and get it under way. Secondly, I've still much more follow up work to do on the application for the license to operate a gospel radio station (100,000 watts) in the Pusan area. I've been able to arrange tentatively another conference with President Rhee, and trust that after this talk with him I'll have some definite news on the license. I imagine such a radio station will cost in the neighborhood of $300 thousand. Broadcasts will be in five or more languages."

"Learning the language has been unique of course, and now I have started on Korean. That doesn't mean I've mastered Japanese by any means, but both Kathryn and I have made some progress."

"I suppose our sort of mission (a 'faith' mission) is different from denominational missions. Our missionaries (160 in Japan, the largest group) generally come from Baptist, Presbyterian, Methodist, Holiness, etc. We simply work as God provides. We started our radio work here on just that, with no funds in sight, and yet we've been able to continue for three months now, spending about $400 a week which God has sent for the work, mostly through sacrificial gifts from the missionaries themselves."

"However, we do not feel justified in making specific requests of friends, however close. We believe that God will supply these needs as long as we are faithful and do not misuse or divert the money to our own selfish ends. We have invested our lives and all that we have in the souls of these people—in Eternity. We believe that as God leads others back home will be stirred to help in these financial needs."

INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON—March 29, 1953

TITLE: "JESUS IS CRUCIFIED"

SCRIPTURE: MATTHEW 27:32-44, 54

- I. AIM OF THE LESSON:
 - a. To understand more fully the powerful appeal and transforming power of the cross.
 - b. To realize anew that Christ died for us as individuals.
 - c. To present the claim of Christ on our lives in return for what He has done for us.
- II. CONCLUSIONS:
 - a. As a common criminal, transgressor, sinner, Christ, who was without sin, died the death you and I deserve to die.
 - b. This death was for you and for me.
 - c. The cross is central in the plan of God; the old Testament pointed toward it, and the new moves out with power from it.

REV. HAROLD R. HARLEE

THIS WEEK'S SERMONETTE

BY BREAD ALONE?

BY REV. H. R. HARLEE

Lake Harbor Baptist Church

Text: "Man shall not live by bread alone, but by every word that proceedeth out of the mouth of God."—(Jesus, in Matt. 4:4.)

It has been nearly a year and a half since we moved into this rich muckland. During that time, I have observed the people and their way of living. I am confident that a great many Glades residents do not agree with the above text. At any rate they never seem to feel the need of the Bible, the Church, or prayer, and "actions speak louder than words."

Pastors in this area will agree with me that, hundreds of our people rarely, if ever, darken our church doors. Most of these, if asked why, reply, "I'm too busy," or some other such trivial excuse. Sunday, to them, is little different from any other week day, unless it is a chance to go hunting, fishing, a trip to Grandma's, or some other pleasure outing. Funny, we always "find time" for things we really WANT to do.

Suppose you passed by your local church, and saw a man up on the roof, chipping holes.

You would rush to the police, calling it an outrage. Yet how many of us are helping to tear down our churches, just as truly as the man with the axe. By continually staying away from services, and by failing to properly support our church, we are actually, believe it or not, helping to tear it down. Some one has well put it into rhyme:

If every member were just like ME,
What kind of church would MY CHURCH

The Bible commands us to "Not forsake the assembling of ourselves together. (Hebrews 10:25). The church, whatever her faults and shortcomings, and with her few overly publicized "hypocrites," is still God's lighthouse in a sin darkened world. It is there that we find "spiritual bread" for our inner being. Remember the words of Jesus in our text, "Man shall not live by bread alone," and take your family to church NEXT SUNDAY. Stand by her, give worthily to her support. You'll not regret it, in this world, nor the world to come.

CAR ACCIDENT DIDN'T PREVENT SUNDAY WEDDING

Florida Highway Trooper Joe P. Bertrani had a busy day Sunday with four highway accidents on SR No. 25 and SR No. 80. He barely had time to clean up one accident before being called on the next. Three persons were hospitalized, a wedding was threatened and a woman's scream caused heavy damage to two cars.

A young couple enroute to South Bay from the lower east coast for the purpose of being married at the Quarterly Conference of the Church of Latter Day Saints at the Legion Hall, missed the turn at South Bay and proceeded to Lake Harbor before they discovered their mistake. Enroute back the driver, George Harvey Taylor of Fort Lauderdale, age 20, lost control of his car on the Zurich curve, at 12:15, skidded on the wet pavement into a tree, doing heavy damage to the car. The young people consisting of his fiancée Joyce Winifred Brown and her sister of Hollywood, were thrown out of the car by the impact but fortunately were not severely injured. Miss Brown was taken to the Belle Glade Memorial Hospital where she received first aid.

Nothing daunted, the bride was outfitted with wedding garments by various members of the local church to replace those ruined by the accident and the wedding took place, President Peter J. Ricks performing the ceremony. The bridegroom expects to leave soon for active duty with the armed services and the couple planned the wedding before he left.

PATROLMEN BUSY WITH WEEKEND ACCIDENTS

Three persons were hospitalized in the Clewiston Hospital with injuries received in an accident at the entrance of Okeocha Groves just east of Bare Beach. Rev. Father Robert William Schiefel of St. Augustine had a badly bruised leg his mother, Mrs. Loyola Schiefel, age 51, a badly bruised leg, his mother Susie Mae Specht, age 50, wife of Henry Specht of Ocala had a fractured finger and lacerations of the wrist.

According to Trooper Bertrand, Harold C. Ellenwood of Chicago traveling west in a DeSoto Coupe, attempted to turn into the entrance of the Okeocha Groves. The front end of his car was struck by that of Father Schiefel. The rear end of the Schiefel Chevrolet in turn struck by a Chrysler coach driven by Specht. A fourth car driven by George S. Knutson of Racine, Wisconsin was trying to pass the Ellenwood car, struck it a glancing blow where it projected into his lane.

In all approximately $2,000 damages were done to the cars. This accident took place about 2 o'clock.

The first accident of the day involved three cars which were damaged approximately $1,600. It happened about 9:15, some 9 miles south of South Bay.

A car driven by Morton S. Yancey, a Miami driver, struck a Chevrolet coach in attempting to pass two cars went off the west side of the highway and hurt several people, though unhurt screamed.

William Harrison Welch of Fort Lauderdale, driving a Cadillac, stopped to render assistance. Unfortunately he did not park quite off the highway in his haste. An Oldsmobile Convertible driven by Louis Greenfield of St. Louis, struck the back end of the parked car driving it 40 feet forward on the slippery pavement and damaging the rear end of Greenfield's car. He was accompanied by his wife, daughter and son-in-law, none of whom were injured.

The fourth accident came at 4:15 about 4 miles south of South Bay. Oscar Byrd, driving a semi-trailer truck belonging to his brother Charles, struck a motorcycle and caused the misfortune to have the right front tire blow out causing him to lose control and leave the highway. He struck a pine tree at the edge of the canal, demolishing the tractor, and causing $2,500 damage. He suffered only minor lacerations of the leg and was taken to his home in South Bay by his brother, who had been summoned to the scene.

Trooper Bertrand thus had a hectic day and missed his dinner, but he did get back home late for supper but he still had to spend his evening typing up the four accidents.

LIONS CLUB SCHEDULE KING-QUEEN CONTEST

Boys and girls entered in the contest are between the ages of one and six. It's one cent a vote and who will be the winners has the whole town talking.

Voting jars and pictures of the candidates for South Bay's King and Queen of the Lions have been placed in the stores and other places of business. Beautiful prizes will be awarded to the winners. All candidates will be introduced on Monday night, March 30 and the winners will be announced followed by a coronation ceremony on Tuesday night, March 31.

Contestants already in the running are Janet Barbara Ann Warren, Janet Summerlin, Gwen Warren, Diane Shiver, Jill Bowen, Jimmie Warren, Phonda Walker, Gary Walker, Harry E. Dalrymple, Doris Willets, Gail Sullivan, Phil Bowen, Jean Willis, Bryant Davis, Barbara McLeod, Susan Allen, Vicki Chancellin, and Billy Rogers, Jr. The pictures of all the candidates are in Willis Store window, where standings will be posted daily. RED CROSS DRIVE ENDS MARCH 31ST—GIVE NOW

Mrs. Effie Allen, volunteer Red Cross drive chairman for membership, calls attention to the fact that the drive ends on March 31.

Mrs. Allen states that she has made the rounds and called on everyone in the community but that she failed to find quite a number at home when she called. She will appreciate it very much if those who were not contacted or who could not at that moment contribute by either mail or hand her their memberships and contributions to the Red Cross, which has given so freely to the Glades people in times of past disasters.

PROCEEDS FROM PLAY TO BENEFIT CITY PARK

Plans are underway for the South Bay Lions production of "Flying High" an all local talent play, to be presented March 30 and 31 at the school auditorium at 8 p. m. for the benefit of the new city ball park.

Leads in the hilarious three-act comedy will be enacted by Norma Jean Lovell as "Mary Lou Milford" and Carlin Mirell as Ted Sterling, young inventor. The entire action of "Flying High" takes place in the lobby of "Purdy's" Last Resort, a small hotel owned and operated by Jeb T. Purdy, who also is town "constable." Jeb's great weakness is that he faints every time he hears the word "blood." Frank Willis plays the part of Jeb Purdy.

A curious assemblage of guests at Purdy's Last Resort adds to the meriment. Mrs. Augusta Van Sneerington and her "lisper" son Robert are interpreted by Judy Sullivan and J. K. Davis. Ray Sullivan takes the part of the Great Expect. Prof. Boomer K. Bamsmeller, on a top mission from Washington, a mission so secret even he has not been told what it is.

Maid Ratley has the role of Beulah Potts, outspoken cook and Mary Waters plays Gabrielle (Gabby) Hopkins, nosy neighbor who knows everything going on and tells it. Esther Walker enacts the part of Betty Green, breezy young friend of Mary Lou, and a villain, Titus Pincham.

The Kiddies Circus number is one of the most appealing of the play. It features Bunnies, the fierce tiger, zebra, lions, clowns, dancers and even a balloon man.

Also on the program and many of the local talent will be featured.

ARMY RESERVES READY FOR FIELD TRAINING

Thousands of combat veterans recently that approximately 15,421 Army reservists from about 329 units will participate in intensive 2-week field training exercises this year.

Third Army announced recently that approximately 15,421 Army reservists from about 329 units will participate in intensive 2-week field training exercises this year.

Thousands of combat veterans of World War II and of the fighting in Korea will take part in the mandatory training, which will be under the overall supervision of Lieutenant General A. R. Bolling, Commanding General, Third Army Reserve unit personnel, assisted by regularly assigned unit instructors, will direct actual training activities. This year's encampment, which will run generally from May through September, will be the fourth since World War II in which the Army reserve has attended in units, although individual members have served short tours for training purposes since 1947.

Reserve mobile instructional and demotion teams from the Third Army Area, which have been used in reserve training during the fall and winter months, will also be used during the encampment period to bring the latest tactical methods and use of new equipment to the 25 Reserve Divisions and other reserve units of the Army camps. Training will again be largely on a platoon and company level, stressing individual and small unit tactics.

In recent years Army reserve units have had a high percentage of attendance at annual field training, a record attributed by Army authorities to the cooperation of business and industrial employers of reservists. Florida units last year attained an outstanding attendance of 93.7% of their members; 63% were excused for urgent reasons. In many instances reserve personnel were granted leave with pay in addition to regular vacation, or employers made up the difference between military and civilian pay while the reservists were at camp.

Field training periods will be for 15 days, including travel time. Since last year's encampment, the Army has liberalized its policy regarding individual travel to and from the camp sites, when travel by unit is directed. General Bolling is expected to permit 25 percent of each unit to travel as individuals. Previous policy permitted only about 10 percent of a unit to travel individually. The new policy will permit reservists personal freedom in complying with unit field training orders without hampering unit efficiency.

Local reservists affected by this program are Captain Banna Rodriguez, Nurses Corps, Major Wooten, Major Ed Lively, Captain Victor Green, Lieutenant Emmett Roberts and Warrant Officer Julius Harris.

TRUCKS PAY MILLIONS INTO FLORIDA COFFERS

Jacksonville — Approximately 200,000 trucks in Florida paid $6,919,387 in registration fees and for license tags during 1952; it was reported today by C. A. Gertner, general manager of Florida Trucking Association, Inc., and secretary of the Florida Highway Users Conference. These figures, Gertner said, have just been disclosed as a result of a national survey by American Trucking Associations, Inc., with headquarters in Washington.

Dade County leads the state with 29,275 trucks paying $1,150,212 in registration fees and for license tags. Second is Hillsborough, with 17,968 trucks paying $726,526; and third, Duval, with 16,349 trucks paying $698,187.

Gertner said that 152,529 trucks involving all highway user taxes—paid by trucks in 1952 are not yet available but that in 1950, Florida's 170,541 trucks paid highway user taxes totaling $24,802,000.

Getting together to do BIG JOBS is natural for Americans!

"BARN RAISINGS", "HUSKING BEES", "threshing fests", and many other kinds of "trading help" are a part of the American tradition.

Throughout the history of our country, whenever a man was faced with a job he couldn't do by himself, he asked his neighbors for help and pledged to help them in return.

It has always worked... it's working today... through co-ops.

Through co-op organizations, working together with his neighbors, a man can sell his produce at a better price and buy what he needs at a saving.

Co-op strength is the strength of many people working together toward a modern goal... for the benefit of all.

equally among the counties, and the Hialeah show was conducted to find out how these funds are being used in each county. It is the right of each county under the law, to determine the spending of its share.

For 1952 year County received $112,000 from racing, and the returns for this year are expected to be near $115,000 from the state's 19 racing interests, with Hialeah the largest single contributor with a record $28,500.

Hialeah—which has produced $36,073.594 in revenue for the state in eight years since the war—found that generally the counties used the racing money for schools, roads, bridges, public health, hospitals, public buildings and other government services.

In Palm Beach County, all racing money goes to the County Commission for roads and bridges.

MRS. HENRY EARWOOD SERVES ON STETSON ENDOWMENT CAMPAIGN

Mrs. Bunn McCall III, and Mrs. H. O. Earwood of Belle Glade have been appointed members of the Women's Committee in the 1953 campaign sponsored by the United Stetson Alumni to secure subscriptions from Stetson University alumni to the university's proxy endowment project, it was announced today by Dr. J. Ollie Edmunds, president.

The Women's Committee is to be made up of 100 representative former students of Stetson, each of whom will endeavor to obtain ten gifts to the fund from other former students. Mrs. Helen Taylor Brown, of Orange Park, is chairman of the committee.

The United Stetson Alumni in charge of the fund-raising program is headed by former governor Doyle E. Carlton, of Tampa. G. Edward Gilliland, of DeLand is Executive Vice-President. A Men's Committee of 100 men who have attended the University will be headed by Dr. Charles E. Tribble, of DeLand. Former-governor David Sholtz, of Miami, will be chairman of a similar Lawyers' Committee.

Last year, the first year of Stetson's proxy endowment program, the university alumni contributed $27,896, which is the interest of $557,920 of endowment for which they stood proxy. This year the organization is seeking to double the amount of their gift to the university and also to double the number of alumni participating in the undertaking. Under the unique plan for providing alumni support for Stetson, each former student is asked to stand proxy for a definite sum of endowment, a $1 amount he chooses, and give the university 5 percent interest on the amount he represents. Last year the amounts represented by individual alumni varied from $100 to $100,000, the cash gifts of interest thus varying from $5 to $5,000.

PRESBYTERIAN COLLEGE ROBED CHOIR

COLLEGE CHOIR WILL SING SUNDAY MORNING

Presbyterian College's robed choir, which has received national recognition for its concert of sacred music and worship, will sing at the Everglades Presbyterian Church of Belle Glade on Sunday morning (March 29).

The choir presents as its theme this season "The Word of God," adopted in connection with the new version of the Bible recently published. Conductor Edouard Patte once more has developed an outstanding program of sacred classical music for his 32-voiced group. The program includes selections from Bach, Handel, Greg, Beethoven, Russian composers of the old school and several rarely heard negro spirituals.

Under Dr. Patte's direction, the Presbyterian College choir has risen to unusual prominence as a collegiate singing organization. It closed the previous two seasons with national radio broadcasts on "Great Glee Clubs of America," a program which presents only the highest quality choir groups. And over the past five years, the choir has traveled more than 30,000 miles in ten states.

For the 1952-53 season, Dr.

EDOUARD PATTE

Patte scheduled another full program of musical activity. It includes 34 worship concerts and tours into Georgia and Florida. When not on tour, the choir fills weekend engagements in Presbyterian churches throughout South Carolina.

Among the more significant pieces rendered by the Presbyterian College choir in developing its theme "The Word of God" are:

"The Heavens Are Telling" by Beethoven; "Send Forth Thy Light" by Balakirev; "Sicut Locustas Est" by Bach; "Bless the Lord" by Joplin; "Zion Hears" by Buxtehude; "God's Son Has Made Me Free" by Greg; "Let Their Celestial Concerts All Unite" by Handel; and three spirituals entitled "Honor Him," "His Name So Sweet" and "Take My Mother Home."

Looks Alone Don't Determine Grazing Value of Pastures

You can't tell how good your pastures are just by looking at them. Scientists at the Everglades National Park have known for a long time that belly-deep grass does not in itself mean that the cattle have an abundance of food.

Dr. George K. Davis, head of the Animal Nutrition Laboratory of the Florida Agricultural Experiment Stations, has some pointers for determining the value of pastures.

He says total digestible nutrients, or TDN, are of primary importance in any consideration of pasture quality. The term TDN includes protein and carbohydrates — starches, sugars and fiber. These are the tissue-building and energy-making parts of the grass. Pasture quality also depends on the amount of calcium, phosphorus, magnesium, common salt, potassium, sulphur and trace elements.

The most critical of these plant contents in the grass is protein. Protein, phosphorus, and trace elements, with common salt, are important along the coast and in some of the peat areas.

Except in the case of young cattle, pastures will not supply enough protein for young animals. Younger animals may not be able to eat enough pasture to supply their needs for growth.

A 300-pound beef calf growing normally, would have to eat 64 pounds of very young viregrass to supply its protein requirements. This amount would be 176 pounds if the grass were old. The same calf would need 54 pounds of very young Pangola or 134 pounds of old Pangola per day to meet its needs.

Pasture plants undergo changes during the year that affect pasture quality. As the plants mature they contain less protein and moisture and more crude fiber. The sharp drop in protein values as the plants age is a good indication of their nutritional quality, Dr. Davis points out, but this doesn't tell the whole story. The dry matter content also reflects the available nutrients. Low total fiber means better digestibility.

Too little phosphorus in the plants may limit growth of the cattle grazing them. Old grasses contain much less phosphorus than young grasses — the young grasses usually contain more than enough for good cattle feed. As grasses mature there is a drop in their phosphorus content.

Trace elements are very important in the pasture picture. They must be supplied to the cattle either through the soil or in a mineral box, or in both ways. Here-again, good looking plant growth may not be a guarantee of nutritional quality.

Dr. Davis explains that the final test of the nutritive value of pastures is the way in which livestock grazing the pastures perform. However, good management of the pastures will go a long way toward assuring good cattle performance.

WASHINGTON NEWS LETTER From

WASHINGTON—The Senate expects to have before it this week a resolution, passed overwhelmingly by the House last week, to create a new government department—the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

I expect to oppose this measure. It seems to me the principal accomplishment of such a law would be to add to government bureaucracy, and it was this sort of thing that the people were fighting last fall when they voted General Eisenhower into the presidency. I cannot see where creating a new cabinet post, with a big operating overhead, and pyramiding a new group of government bureaus, will add anything to the services the people now get in the administration of the Social Security system, Office of Education, and Public Health Service.

I would much prefer this money go into more adequate social security benefits.

VETERANS INFORMATION AND SERVICE

By Melvin T. Dixon
State Service Officer
RETIREMENT—NATIONAL GUARD SERVICE PRIOR TO 1916.—The United States Court of Claims rendered a decision that National Guard service from 21 January 1903, the date of the Dick Act, through June 30, 1916, the date of the National Defense Act, is satisfactory Federal service for retirement purposes under the provisions of Title III, Public Law 810, 80th Congress. This decision was, in effect, upheld by the United States Supreme Court when it denied the writ of certiorari requested by the Department of Justice.

The original claim was filed by three veterans with from 27 to 48 years service, active and Guard, however, all had retired less than 20 years after approval of the National Defense Act of June 3, 1916, which gave the National Guard federal status for the first time. The Adjutant General of the Army turned them down on the grounds that their total service in federal status failed to meet requirements of the Reserve Retirement Act, its provision.

The matter of crediting such service is now under study. If you are receiving retirement under Title III, and if you had service in the National Guard during the above-mentioned period, it is suggested that you take action to have such service verified by requesting the Adjutant General of the State, or States, in which you served to furnish you with an official statement in that service. The statement should include date or dates of your enlistment or acceptance of commission and the date or dates of discharge or termination of your appointment, together with the dates of your active duty.

MIAMI MARINE JETS SET A FLYING RECORD
Working as a team, pilots and men of Marine Jet Fighter Squadron-314, a unit of the Third Marine Aircraft Wing, Miami, Fla., combined their efforts in breaking a two-year flying record established by the Marine Jet Fighter Squadron-115 of the Second Marine Aircraft Wing at Cherry Point, N.C.

The record of 2308 flying hours, set by the Cherry Pointers in June, 1951, was topped recently by Squadron-314 while on maneuvers in the Caribbean area. A total of 2403.9 hours was compiled during a 30-day period of both day and night flying.

Under the command of Lieutenant Colonel Homer S. Hill, who has been the commanding officer since the squadron was reactivated in February, 1952, the pilots and men, with only a month and a half experience with jets prior to the maneuvers, proved through their tireless efforts that nothing is impossible.

In order to maintain aircraft readings, it was necessary to keep three check crews of four men each on the line at all times, so that any arriving aircraft needing repairs could receive immediate attention. Of the 23 jets that were taken to Puerto Rico, 18 of them were kept in constant flying condition.

Maintenance of these aircraft consisted of 30, 60, 90, and 120-hour checks. During this time, the engine, hydraulic system, tires, and other parts were given a thorough going over. This was handled with such skill that little or no time was lost, thus enabling the pilots to break the old record.

The pilots were enthused over setting the new record, but almost to a man they gave the credit where it was due — to the maintenance crew who worked around-the-clock.

"See that Technical Sergeant sitting on the wing of that Panther," remarked one of the pilots. "Well, that kid has been up for the last twenty-four hours working like crazy, and he's typical of this crew."

All day long the line buzzed with activity keeping the ships in flying condition. All night the area was lit up by portable lights so that the work could continue without interruption, spent last weekend in Tampa. Finally on the 30th day, after an Orlando.

the record had been officially broken, the officers and men of the "Fighting Bobcats" heaved a mighty sigh and looked back on a job well done.

Returning to Miami, the squadron received a commendation from Major General Harris, Commanding General, Aircraft, Fleet Marine Force, Atlantic, commending them for their outstanding performance. General Harris also congratulated them on their fine safety record, having flown 2403.9 jet hours without an accident.

Indefinite animal fats and vegetable oils are now being used as plasticizers through a process developed by the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Turn milk cows dry six to eight weeks before they are due to calve again.

"Mid-morning let-down is largely psychological and not attributed to a breakfast high in starches and sugar."

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Castellino continue without interruption, spent last weekend in Tampa. Finally on the 30th day, after an Orlando.

CROSS COUNTRY CHATTER with Mac White

Maybe I'd better introduce myself a little more thoroughly because you're going to be hearing a lot more from me. And before I finish, I think we're going to be good friends. You can just call me "Mac" because that's what all my friends call me. I'm 35, married, got a couple of kids and I'm down here in Jacksonville, Florida. For the past ten years I've been a driver for one of Florida's largest trucking firms.

I graduated from high school at Jacksonville, attended the University of Florida for two years where I studied engineering, put in a hitch with the Merchant Marine and then got married and had to settle down to this business of making a living. I chose the trucking industry because, while I was in college, I helped pay my way by getting a part-time and summer-time job with a trucking company. They started me out right at the bottom, pushing a two-wheeled Georgia buggy. (That's a pushcart in our language.) Then I became a driver's helper on a pick-up-and-delivery run. Now I'm making long hauls—covering such areas as Atlanta to Jax to Tampa, Jax to Miami, and Jax to Key West.

Right now I'm "deadheaded" north, passing through Oak Hills, delivering four new automobiles in a deal at West Palm Beach. By my trailer is empty. We try to avoid these empty runs because, as you can imagine, they're unprofitable. It costs a lot of money to operate a tractor-trailer that makes only about five miles on a load and wears down tires that cost more than $100 each—and I'm riding on ten of 'em.

We fellows are known as "professional" drivers. We've been through a long, hard period of training. Periodically we must take physical exams and psychophysical tests and such items as distance judgment, depth perception, steadiness, night vision, and so forth.

Oh-oh—there's a little lady in trouble with a shoulder. Now if I can find a safe shoulder, I'll pull off the road and help her out. See you next week...
